Red cards

Rules

8:5 A player who endangers the opponent's health when attacking him, shall be disqualified (Rule 16:6c)

8:6 Seriously unsportsmanlike conduct by a player or team official, on or outside the court, shall be punished with disqualification (Rule 16:6e)

8:7 A player who is guilty of "assault" during the playing time shall be disqualified what has also to be reported in writing. Assault outside the playing time leads to a disqualification (Rules 16:6f; 16:16b-d). A team official who is guilty of assault shall be disqualified (Rule 16:6g)

Rules

16:6 A disqualification must be given for:

- a) Seriously unsportsmanlike conduct
- b) The second (or subsequent) occasion of unsportsmanlike conduct by any one of the players or officials of a team (Rule 8:4)
- c) Fouls which endanger the opponent's health (Rule 8:5)

Rules

- d) Fouls of the goalkeeper, leaving his goal area during a “Shoot-out” and endangering the health of the opponent (Rule 8:5: Actions which are clearly directed at the body of the opponent and are not aimed at playing the ball)

- e) Seriously unsportsmanlike conduct by a player or a team official, on or outside the court (Rule 8:6);

Rules

- f) An assault by a player outside the playing time, i.e. before the game or during an intermission (Rules 8:7, 16:12b, d)
- g) An assault by a team official (Rule 8:7)
- h) A second suspension to the same player (Rule 16:5)
- i) Repeated unsportsmanlike conduct by a player or team official during an intermission (Rule 16:12d)

The situations for direct red card

A player is disqualified if he/she:

- a) From the side or from behind, either strikes or pulls back the throwing arm of a player who is in the process of throwing or passing the ball
- b) Takes any action resulting in the opponent being struck on the head or neck
- c) Deliberately hits the body of an opponent with his foot or knee or in any other way, including tripping

The situations for direct red card

- d) Pushes an opponent who is running or jumping, or attacks him in such a way that the opponent loses control of his body; this also applies when a goalkeeper leaves his goal area in connection with a counter-attack from the opponents
- e) Hits a defending player in the head with a free throw taken as a direct shot on goal, assuming that the defending player was not moving; or similarly, hits the goalkeeper in the head with a 6-metre throw, assuming that the goalkeeper was not moving

The situations for direct red card

Situations for direct red card with written report:

- ❖ particularly reckless, dangerous, premeditated or malicious actions
- ❖ If the referees classify a conduct as extremely unsportsmanlike, they must submit a written report after the game, so that the responsible authorities are in a position to take a decision about further measures.

The situations for direct red card

Examples:

- Insulting or threatening behaviour directed at another person (referee, delegate...) The behaviour may be verbal or non-verbal
- The interference by a team official in the game, on the playing court or from the substitution area, or a player destroying a clear chance of scoring, either through an illegal entry on the court or from the substitution area

The situations for direct red card

- If during the last minute of a game the ball is out of play, and a player or team official prevents or delays the execution of a throw for the opponents, in order to prevent them from being able to take a shot on goal or to obtain a clear scoring chance; this is considered extremely unsportsmanlike, and it applies to any type of interference

The situations for direct red card

- If during the last minute of a game the ball is in play, and the opponents, through an action falling under rule 8:5 or 8:6, prevent the team in possession from being able to take a shot on goal or to obtain a clear scoring chance; this is not just to be punished with a disqualification under 8:5 or 8:6; a written report must also be submitted
