

2005 REFEREES' AND DELEGATES' CONVENTION PROACTIVE DISCUSSION ON TOPICS OF RELEVANCE "GROUP GREEN"

SUNDAY, 17 April 2005

EVENT MANAGEMENT – DELEGATING

- 2 Delegates for each game
  - Event Management (organizational tasks)
  - Referee observation
- Delegates and referees must act as a team and in representation of the EHF
- Creation of expert groups for certain tasks
- Assignment of the games to certain levels
- Core emphasis must be laid on the overall appearance of the event and the impression given to the outside world
- Preparation of meetings and infrastructure prior to the game (agendas, technical forms)
- Clear EHF guidelines and procedures concerning event management together with checklists for all tasks
- Better information on and education in event management
- Delegates must have an overview on the entire infrastructure and activities at the venue and shall provide the EHF with a report on their observations;
- Requirement of English knowledge
- Financial aspects – referees in comparison to delegates

REFEREEING (INCL. COOPERATION DELEGATES etc.)

- Two pillars system for referee observation
  - Emphasis laid on a verbal feedback/judgement
  - In addition a statistical evaluation by a point system
- Observers in general have to be former international referees
- Assignment of the games to certain levels
- Creation of certain categories/levels in refereeing connected with a clearly structured education system within the EHF
- Adaptation of the observation (points) system - focus to much on the rules (overall appearance should be important)
- Participation of referees in technical meeting obligatory
- Increased support for female referees
- Quality based referee nomination – not applying the criterion of regional balance
- Strict measures against partial behaviour (one-sided whistling)
