Substitutions area

Substitutions area:

The substitution area for the court players is 15 meters long and about 3 meters wide. The substitution areas are situated on each side of the playing area outside the side lines. The court players must enter the court only from this area.

Substitution area regulations:

2. No objects of any kind may be placed in the substitution areas.
3. Only the players and team officials entered in the scoresheet are allowed to be in the substitution area
4. Both teams are in the substitution area on their respective sides
5. The team officials in the substitution area must be dressed in sportswear.
6. If an interpreter is needed, he must take up a position behind the substitution area.

Rules regarding the substitutions area:

The timekeeper and scorekeeper shall support the referees in monitoring the occupancy of the substitution area before and during the game.

If before the game there are any infringements of the rules as regards the substitution area, the game may not start until the infringements have been remedied. If these rules are infringed during the game, the game may not be continued after the next interruption until the matter has been resolved.

Technical Delegates of the IHF (or the continental federation or national federation) who are on duty at a game are allowed to draw the attention of the referees (at the next interruption of the game) to a possible violation of the rules or a failure to comply with the substitution area regulations (except in the case of decisions made by the referees on the basis of their observations of facts).

The referee's obligations before, during and at the end of the game

17:2 - The referees monitor the conduct of the players from the moment they enter the premises until they leave.

17:3 - They ensure that the number of players and officials in the substitution area it within the limits, and they establish the presence and identity of the responsible team official", for each team.

17:6 - The referees position themselves in a way they can overview the substitution areas of both teams.

The timekeeper and Scorekeeper shall support the referees in monitoring the occupancy of the substitution area before and during the game.

The referees control with support of the timekeeper/scorekeeper the entry and the exit of the substitutes (Rules 17:6, 18:1).

If the Substitution Area Regulations are infringed, the referees are obliged to act in accordance with Rules 16:1d, 16:2c-d or 16:6b,e,h (verbal warning, suspension, disqualification).

The playing time ends with the automatic final signal from the public clock or from the timekeeper. If no such signal comes, the referee whistles to indicate that the playing time is over 17:12 - The referees are responsible for ensuring after the game that the scoresheet is completed in a correct way.

How to keep order in the substitution area?

The referees ensure that the number of players and officials in the substitution area is within the limits, and they establish the presence and identity of the “responsible team official”, for each team.

If the Substitution Area Regulations are infringed, the referees are obliged to act in accordance with Rules (verbal warning, suspension, disqualification)!

- Fair play
- Unsportsmanlike behavior
- Verbal caution
- Respect for the game!

The team officials have the right and duty to guide and manage their team also during the game, in a fair and sporting spirit within the framework of the rules. In principle, they should sit or kneel in their substitution area.

In principle, players in the substitution area should sit or kneel. The substitute players are, however, permitted to move around in the substitution area, when they are soon going to enter the court, as long as it is not done in a disturbing manner.

It is not permitted for team officials or players to:

- interfere with or insult referees, delegates, timekeeper/ scorekeeper, players, team officials, or spectators, by behaving in a provocative, protesting, or otherwise unsportsmanlike manner (speech, facial expression or gestures)
- leave the substitution area in order to influence the game
- stand or move along the side line while warming up.
